Down Among the Dead Men. There are three burying grounds in the suburbs of Pioche. The first, to which we will invite the reader's attention, is what may be termed the public cemetery. in which repose all classes and persons who occupied different positions in life. Unsuccessful efforts have been made to inclose the final resting place of those who have died in Pioche and whose rewho have died in Pioche and whose re-mains have been interred in the public burying ground. Posts have been exceted around the lot, but that is all that has been done towards inclosing it. We have before urged the building of a fence around this lot, now rendered sarred as the resting place of denizens of Pioche; but from some cause or other we have not succeeded in awakening public attention succeeded in awakening public attention to the matter. To the west of the public cemetery is to be found the lot selected by the Masonic and Odd F-llows Fraternities for the final intercent of their dead. This ground is handsomely and substantially fenced in, and is a credit to the Masons and Odd F-llows of Ploche. the Masons and Odd Fellows of Pioch-Northwest of this burial ground is the Catholic cemetery, where quite a num-ber of that faith repose, awaiting the sounding of last trump. It, too, is with-out an inclosure. Not a few of the graves in each of the cemeteries are en-closed by palings, and on a f-w of them flowers have been strewn. Head-boards are also numerous, yet we insist that the ground which by common consent has are also numerous, yet we have the transfer of the dead should be properly inclosed, that the final sleep of the departed shall not be disturbed by the tramp of the beasts of the DISTRICT COURT .- Geo. C. Johnston, et al., vs. Robert Glover, Henry Phillips, et al.; motion to dissolve injunction. This cause came up for hearing before Judge Fuller, in Chambers, on the 1st of October. The plaintiffs were represented by Pitzer & Corson and the defend-ants by Bishop & Sabin and J. C. Fos-ter. A large number of witnesses were examined as to the question of title, and the case was submitted to the Judge without argument. The Court ordered that the injunction be dissolved and va-ceted upon the grounds that the answer cated, upon the grounds that the answer of defendants fully denied all allegations in the complaint; that there was no evidence that plaintiffs had resided upon the land, as required by law; that no sufficient inclosure had ever been piaced around the land by plaintiffs; and on the further ground that plaintiffs had a claim ready and advants remarks at law. plain, speedy and adequate remedy at law to enforce all their rights in question; and also that the evidence proved that lefendants were able to respond in dam-ages for any judgment that may be recov-red against them in this cause.

AN OLD PAPER.-Yesterday Wm. Pieron of this place, by mere accident, ob- reantained a copy of the Montana Radiator, dated at Helena, Saturday, February 17, 1886. Mr. Pierson did us the kindness to send us this somewhat antiquated specimen of a newspaper. F. J. Favorite was both proprietor and editor. The copy before us is printed on brown paper, showing that the concern was probably snowed in about the period of his death. Helena was then in Edgerton county, and Sidney Edgerton was Governar of the Territory. The Railator 1866. Mr. Pierson did us the kindness nor of the Territory. The Radiator e-med to radiate tolerably well, as it had a good run of advertisements, and was well supplied with reading matter; yet, although it had a Favorite editor, it d There is a very curious as well as very important question for some one to decide. Last Winter the Legislature of Oregon, which was a Republican body and acting according to the demands of Ben. Holladay, voted for a John H. Mitchell was elected. It afterward transpired that there was no such person as John H. Mitchell but the there was no such person as John H. Mitchell but the such person as John H. that there was no such person as John H. A Comection. — Yesterday morning Mr. Wm. Kistle, whose name appeared Mr. Wm. Kistle, whose name appeared to fit that which the members of the Legislature voted when they chose a Senator. This is the person who may claims to be the Senator from that State, although his name was not Michell with the senator of the legislature voted when they chose a Senator. An utter stranger called Lard noon a respectable farmer, recently, and the count had stated that he was allowed to go on paying $76. He also wished it known that he was going to appeal the case to the District court, and that the case to the District court, and the District court, and the District court, and the District court and the District court. A TOUCHING incident is reported from party who he was convicted of assaulting that did it. I took a little locket, "aid the farmer, burst had whilst he was stooping down to shovel up some dirt. "That locket, "said the farmer, bursting into tears. "had been worn by my dear, dear child." "Here it is," reing into tears. "bad been worn by my dear, dear child." "Here it is," replied the stranger, visibly eff cled. "I am rich, let me make restitution. Here is $20 tor your little son." He gave the Herring. is $20 for your little son." He gave the tarmer a $50 bill, and received $30 m He then wrung the farm-r's hand warmly and left. The farmer has since dri-d his tears and loaded his shot-gan. The $50 bill is bad.

New Mexico is perhaps the greatest of sheep-growing T-rritories. Two firms alone near Albuquerque estimate their flocks at one million head. These flocks are herded in "bunches" of about 3,000 each. The breed is the old Spanish Merino. Little expense attaches to the cars or these sheep, and the profits of the business are said to be enormous New Mexico is but just becoming generally known by the outside barbarians of the States. JUDGE KEYSER, holding the District Court at Marysville, has decided that the owner of property to the center of the street or road, may recover damages for the use of said street by a railroad, and for any depreciation that may accrue to his land fronting on the street in conse-quence of the construction of a railroad there. The principle is, we believe, novel in our jurisprudence; but has strong presumptions in its favor, and we should not be surprised if it were gener-ally accepted by jurists as sound.

There is a singular natural curiosity in a lake in Vermont, consisting of one hundred and fifty acres of land floating on the surface of the water. The tract is covered with cranberries, and there are trees fifteen feet high. When the water is raised or lowered at the dam of the pond, the island rises and falls with the fifty of the page. the pond, the island rises and it. It affords a fine shelter for fish, large it. It affords a fine shelter for fish, large numbers of which are caught by boring a hole and fishing down through, as through the ice in the winter time.

Our readers will remember the bequest of John McDonough, the wealthy mer-chant of New Orleans, who, in 1850, left $3,000,000 to be divided equally between New Orleans and Baltimore, and devoted to free schools for white and colored children. All of that magnificent prop-orty has been wasked in litigation and erty has been wasted in litigation and plundered by contesting heirs. A recent official statement of it accounts for only $23,000 in real estate, and $1,674 in view of most things, when recently asked respecting a person of quite a poetic temperament, replied: "Oh, he is one of those men who have soarings after the infinite and divings after the unfathomable, but who never pay cash."

NEAR Rochester there is an eccentric old fellow who lives alongside a grave-yard. He was asked if it was not an un-pleasant location. "No," said he, "I never j'ined places in all my life with a set of neighbors that minded, their own business so stiddy as they do."

The carly grass has been likened to a pocket-knife, because the Spring brings out the blades.

PHILOSOPHER PICERT says he has been in the habit of meeting some of the very greatest asses in the world. What a comfort it must be to him, under the circumstances, to reflect that nature has made it impossible for a man to mee himself.—[San Francisco News Letter
